PLANS OF FARM BODY OUTLINED BY CURLE

Field Man of Grenada County Farm Development Association Discusses Aims of Organization—Wants to Assist Farmers.

Editor Sentinel:

You have invited me to use space in your paper whenever I thought the occasion required it, and then you have almost insisted on the Grenada County Farm Development Association making use of your space to give the public an account of what it is doing and what it is seeking to do, and since I am employed as an agent of the Farm Development Association, I am going to avail myself of your generosity by offering you this for publication.

There are some farmers who do not fully comprehend and who do not understand the aims and the purposes of the Grenada County Farm Development Association. Some few seem to think that it is an organization in a large measure to promote the business interests of Grenada. In short, that its purposes are more or less selfish. I confess at one time that there was an idea in my head somewhat like I have described. But I was wrong. Good friends of mine who think that way are in error. Of course every business move we make may be said to be more or less selfish. I take it that it is true that the town of Grenada, like every other reasoning, sensible set of people, knows that the growth and the prosperity of the town rests largely with the farmers, and if the farmers are not doing well in a business way, then every other business and industry is more or less hampered.

But when it is known that the business men of Grenada have gone down into their own pockets and put up the money to buy A-1 milk cows and to buy registered bulls, and to further and encourage dairying in the county, people are bound to concede that Grenada has done its part. It is still doing its part. No contributions are asked of any farmer to keep alive and going the Farm Development Association. All the association asks is energetic and intelligent cooperation.

There is something over $8,000 owing the association today by different ones who have bought cows and it is being carried at a low rate of interest. Nobody is being pressed to pay the above, yet it is to the interest of every one who bought dairy cows to pay on this debt as much as possible and as quickly as possible. The cows were sold and so were the bulls—all of them I think—to be paid on monthly installments as the milk was sold. It must not be overlooked, either, that the association has put out a great deal more money than the eight thousand dollars already mentioned and which is still due, but which is being taken care of in nearly every case by monthly payments. Only a low rate of interest was charged on all purchases.

Unquestionably the Farm Development Association has already justified its organization. It has done a splendid work in selling better cows and in encouraging our people to try dairying along with farming.

There are several milk routes in the county. One makes a daily trip of 72 miles, and the man who runs this milk truck is the buyer of several milk cows through the association. He makes a delivery of about 1200 pounds of milk daily. The daily sales of milk in the county approximate 4000 pounds. Right here I want to suggest to milk shippers that they dig a hole about 5 feet where they place their cans of milk on the road and set the milk therein to keep it from clabbering. When a can of milk sits in the sun maybe for two or three hours, it clabbers and cannot be used by the creamery or condenser. Since ice is impossible, I find that the hole as suggested in the ground is almost equal to a refrigerator.

The association has placed altogether 300 cows. Of course it is a man's job to milk cows twice daily and then hustle out to get the can of milk on the road by the time the truck arrives, but anything that is worth while is a man's job.

Permit me to say this personal word: The Farm Development Association hired me by the month. The association expects me to aid any farmer where I can. My work is not to be confined wholly to those who have bought cows or who are milking cows, but I am to spray fruit trees, and look after hog cholera and to do such other things as I can which county farm agents should do. I have been reading for a number of years farm bulletins and everything else I have had time to read to give me the socalled scientist's idea of farming as well as that of the practical, common sense farmer. I have been spraying my own fruit trees. I have been giving my own hogs attention and have had no cholera among them. I think I can do farm terracing and many other

MRS. CURTIS H. GUY PASSES TO OTHER WORLD MAY 3

Mrs. Curtis H. Guy passed to the other world at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Moore, at Itta Bena, Miss., on Friday, May 3, in the 72nd year of her age. Her remains were brought back to Grenada, the home of her girlhood, and laid to rest in the family lot besides those of her husband who died quite twenty years ago. Her remains were brought through the country from Itta Bena, and the funeral services were held at the grave by the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Itta Bena and Rev. R. L. McLeod of the Presbyterian church in Grenada. The hour of the arrival of the funeral cortege was not generally known, otherwise there would have been many more at the cemetery to pay their last respects to this good woman.

Mrs. Guy was reared in what is now the vicinity of Holcomb. She was a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Trimble, honored citizens of that community. Mrs. Guy became the wife of Curtis H. Guy and their union was blessed with six children. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Moore, of Itta Bena, and Mrs. G. R. Leeman of Asheville, N. C. and a son, Lynn T. Guy, of Richmond, Va.

After the yellow fever epidemic that swept away its hundreds of Grenada citizens, among them being several physicians, Dr. and Mrs. Trimble moved to Grenada where the doctor enjoyed a large practice for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Guy remained at their lovely country home near Holcomb until a few years before his death when they moved to Grenada.

Mrs. Guy was a loving mother and a devoted wife and sought to live by those standards set forth in the Sermon on the Mount. She was a lovely character and to know her well was to esteem her. She sought the climate of Asheville and other places in that section on account of the health of several members of her family. She had relatives and many friends in Grenada. To the bereft The Sentinel tenders sincere sympathy.

J. L. SCOTT VISITS FORMER HOME

Mr. J. L. Scott, of Jackson, claim agent for the southern division of the Illinois Central Railroad, was in Grenada last Saturday, having stopped over the night before on a return trip from Memphis. Mr. Scott and his elegant wife are missed from Grenada where they lived so long and where they still retain a home when Mr. Scott was claim agent only for this particular division. He is a man of a high sense of honor, and while he is ever true to the trust the railroad has committed to him, yet he is always considerate and does his best to get at the basic facts of any claim made against the railroad company for any alleged damages or for any cause and in the same worthy and commendable way, it is his judgment and recommendation to pay any fair and reasonable amount claimed in any justifiable claim against the railroad company.

Council Continues Parking Discussion

The question of whether or not Grenada automobile dealers shall have the privilege of using the public square and streets in the business section for parking automobiles which they are carrying in stock for sale was brought up again at the May meeting of the city council, held Monday night. The matter is one that has been the subject of more or less discussion for a long period. Several years ago, during an administration preceding the present one, an ordinance was passed prohibiting dealers from using the business section for parking purposes but for some reason it was never enforced. Then, at the meeting of the city council held last month another ordinance was adopted prohibiting dealers from parking more than three cars, etc., at any one time in certain areas but enforcement of the new ordinance was suspended at the request of the dealers until they could be given a hearing before the council.

Monday night, several of the local automobile men were on hand to present their side of the matter to the aldermen. J. H. Neely, of Grenada Auto Co., T. H. Meek, of Meek Motor Co., and A. J. McCaslin, of Grenada Motor Co., each made effective pleas that the ordinance be repealed. They pointed out that if it were made effective they might eventually be forced out of business. They called attention to figures which they said showed that six dealers in Grenada did over a million dollars business annually, a great part of which, they said, came here from other counties. They gave figures to show their annual payrolls, the number of employes and the number of dependents of these employes, all of which, they claimed, went to show that their remaining in business means much to the community. They said that the traffic question is not a new one here and one of the dealers called attention to the congestion in former days when wagons and teams were hitched around the square. It was stated that the cars were not parked on the streets for display purposes but that they were put there to make room in the dealers' repair shops and that their business could not properly function if they were forced to keep all their cars indoors.

The mayor called attention to an ordinance recently passed in Jackson, the capital city, absolutely forbidding dealers to park any cars on the streets and he told of an instance of a complaint being made to him by a Grenada county farmer that he could find no parking space around the square and that he had to leave his car on a side street and pack all his purchases to the machine.

The mayor had an ordinance prepared which he wished to present to the board to prohibit dealers parking their cars in certain areas on Saturdays, during the Grenada fair and on other occasions when extraordinary crowds were expected in Grenada. But a motion to continue the matter for 30 days prevailed and this ordinance was not acted upon.

The parking problem is not peculiar to Grenada. Every town of any size has its troubles along this line. The Sentinel feels sure that the council does not wish to inflict any undue hardships on the dealers and it is equally certain that the dealers are willing to cooperate in anything destined for the betterment of the community.

This paper has heard complaints from rural citizens about the automobile concerns taking up all available parking space and it is true that they have at times used spaces that might have been used by the general public.

Each side of the question has merit in its arguments but it is to be hoped that some plan will be worked out whereby the situation will be improved and that will be satisfactory all round.

MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM AT ALL SAINTS CHURCH

A special Mother's Day service will be held at All Saints Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The offering will be for the benefit of the Old Ladies Home at Jackson, Miss.

The sermon subject will be "The Ideal Mother", according to announcement of the rector, Rev. J. H. Boosey.

LOYAL WORKERS MEET

The Loyal Workers Class of the Methodist Sunday School met in the dining room of the church Monday evening at six o'clock. There were twenty-one members present. After a splendid supper prepared and served by Mrs. Knox Pierce and Mrs. Robert Hall, the class had a business meeting presided over by Miss Beatrice Hamill, the class president.

The reports from officers and committees indicated that the class is functioning well in its various activities. Several helpful talks were made by members of the class. A fine spirit prevailed and the occasion served to further promote the feeling of good fellowship that exists in this class.

COTTON BEING REPLANTED

Rains and Cold Weather Kills Much Cotton.

The persistent rains and the cold weather is killing cotton to the extent that many farmers are ploughing what is left up and replanting it. Possibly twenty-five per cent of the cotton in this locality is being replanted, and some who have not replanted are wondering if they will yet be compelled to do so.

It is still cold. Fires are had in most homes. Sleeping under a blanket and comfort at night is comfortable. Only for one or two days at a time and that but about three times this spring, has the weather felt really like springtime. These few warm days have been immediately followed by a thunderstorm and rain and then a falling in temperature afterward. The weather man is credited with always having played pranks but this year thus far he seems to have had a double deck.

Corn has come up well and is said to be growing off nicely, especially is this true when the extremely unfavorable weather is considered.

Legion Plans Feast Thursday, May 16th

Ex-Soldiers to Have Barbecue on Horseshoe Lake Next Week—All Ex-Service Men Invited Whether Post Members or Not.

A barbecue at Horseshoe Lake on Romwild Plantation, north of Grenada, is being planned by the Grenada Post of The American Legion, for the evening of Thursday, May 16th. F. C. Romberger, on whose place the feast is to be held, is being ably assisted by S. A. Weir in making plans for the affair.

The local post now has a membership approaching 70. It is anxious that every ex-service man in Grenada county join the post in which every member is now taking an active interest. The barbecue is to give the former buddies an opportunity to renew old friendships of "war days" and to have a real, old-fashioned good time together. Every ex-service man is urged to make his arrangements to be there, whether or not he belongs to the Legion. Every ex-soldier who is to be there is "chipping in" one dollar to help cover the expense, since there are no funds in the treasury of the local post.

At the Legion meeting last Thursday night, there was much discussion of promoting boxing matches and a committee was appointed to investigate the situation and report back at the next meeting. Attendance at the meeting was exceptionally good and interest in the proceedings was great.

Those desiring to attend the barbecue on May 16 and who have not already made the necessary financial arrangements with the adjutant, Dudley Crawford, should see him at the sheriff's office at once so that they will be sure to have their "names in the pot".

MR. R. C. WEIR OF VAIDEN

The Sentinel is pleased to number among its subscribers and friends Mr. R. C. Weir of Vaiden. Mr. Weir is a man of large interests. He has conquered in the business world, and while yet well beyond the three score mark, he is vigorous and active and necessarily is compelled to be away from home a great deal in looking after his holdings in other states. He frequently passes through Grenada and just about as frequently makes The Sentinel office a visit which is always much appreciated. Mr. Weir is level headed politically and is one of the many who has helped to plan wisely for the economic future of Mississippi.

GRENADA ACCLAIMS TALKING PICTURES

Management of Local Theatre to Be Commended for Progressive Step—Equipment Conceded to Be Far Superior to Others.

With the praises of the public still resounding through the city, Manager Homer J. Williams of the Grenada Theatre, states that never in the history of his theatre has there been such attendance as this week during the first showing in Grenada of Vitaphone talking pictures. The first presentation of Vitaphone to a Grenada audience was on Monday night when the 100% all-talking picture, "On Trial", was shown to a capacity house. Those who saw this picture and who heard the talking of the characters, perfectly synchronized to their action on the screen, were more than pleased—they were delighted that such a wonderful improvement in motion pictures has really come to Grenada to stay. Of course, many Grenada people have seen and heard talking pictures elsewhere but none of them has been heard to say that the equipment installed by the Grenada Theatre is inferior to that of any of the larger cities. To the contrary, they say that it is far superior to others they have heard and no theatre, within 100 miles of Grenada, equipped to show sound pictures, has greater facilities than the Grenada Theatre.

The opening picture was shown again to a large audience Tuesday night and on Wednesday and Thursday, Richard Barthelmess was featured with Betty Compson in an all-talking picture. Today and tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, "Stark Mad", with H. B. Warner and other stars, and a comedy, both all-talking pictures, will be shown. Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool", the picture that has thrilled the world, will be shown the last four days of next week.

With the installation of Vitaphone pictures here, the management has changed its schedule of shows slightly. For a while, anyway, only three pictures will be shown each week, each being exhibited for two days. A matinee will be given every day commencing at 3:30 except that on Saturdays the show will run continuously from 2:00 p. m. until 11:00 p. m.

The Sentinel feels that the Grenada Theatre should be commended for this great improvement. The business interests have in many ways shown their desire to go out of Grenada for new business and to encourage any enterprise that brings new business to Grenada. The installation of talking pictures in the local theatre is sure to bring people from great distances. This has already been demonstrated. And as the days go by, its worth to the town as one of the community's main attractions should be clearly proved. This paper congratulates the Grenada Theatre and hopes that its progressive policy will not go unrewarded.

Vitaphone is something difficult for the average individual to understand. The average spectator in the audience sees the moving characters on the screen. He hears them talk but he gives only casual thought as to how the perfect synchronization of sound and action is brought about. In order that this may be made clear, The Sentinel is giving the technical story of Vitaphone from the lips of Michael I. Pupin, Ph. D., Sc. D., professor of Electro-Mechanics in Columbia University, and president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Dr. Pupin explains Vitaphone as follows:

"Through this device, music, speech or song is electrically reproduced, as the performers seen on the screen appear to render it; music expressly played to accompany a certain picture is electrically reproduced in synchronization with the action on the screen; and, in general, the visual and audible presentation of performers mechanically and electrically any place, any time, without their actual presence in the theatre or hall.

"The sound vibrations created by the orchestra are picked from the air by microphones, which are placed out of the range of the cameras and yet within a few feet of the players. Where the rendition is that of a single singer or

WILL WELCOME NEW RECTOR AT UNION SERVICE SUNDAY

Rev. J. H. Boosey, who recently came to Grenada to accept the call to All Saints Episcopal Church, is to be welcomed by the congregations of the other churches of Grenada in a union service next Sunday evening. The services are to be held at the First Presbyterian Church and are announced to begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

HIGHLANDERS' PROGRAM ENJOYED BY ROTARIANS

A program presented by eight members of the Highlanders, junior boys' organization, was thoroughly enjoyed by the members of the Grenada Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday.

Erle Johnston, Jr., spoke a word of appreciation in behalf of the organization for what the Rotary Club has been and is doing for this group of young fellows and he did it in a way that would have done credit to a veteran speaker.

Two piano selections by Lawrence Olson, Jr., were next on the program and won well-earned applause.

Frank Gerard, Jr., with several saxophone solos and two humorous readings, was the next feature and he, too, was repeatedly encored.

Bobbie Sharp and Eddie Hornor, "a red head pair with a little hot air", gave much amusement with their dialogue, keeping their audience in an uproar.

To close the program the Highlander quartet, composed of Erle Johnston, Jr., Bertwell Johnston, Ben Adams, Jr., and Frank Horton, sang several numbers, their final number, "The Bulldog and the Bullfrog", bringing tears of merriment to the eyes of many.

Miss Lorraine Lyon played excellent accompaniments to the musical numbers on the program.

Visitors at Tuesday's meeting were Rotarian D. B. Cowart, of Charleston, Roy Nelson, of Jackson, and Rev. J. H. Boosey and W. T. Newton, of Grenada.

Band Concert Opens Redpath's Program

Redpath Chautauqua Begins Five-Day Stay Here Today. Many Excellent Things to Be Presented during Engagement Here.

The Redpath Chautauqua tent was to be erected on the local high school grounds Thursday afternoon. Ross Stout will be in charge of the big brown top and will be assisted by Ray Pilcher.

The Redpath management is offering this season one of the best programs ever presented on any Redpath circuit—beautiful musical attractions, popular entertainments, comedy, drama, authoritative lectures, all find a place on this notable program.

Among the many splendid features are three great plays, the hilarious Broadway comedy success, "Skidding", the notable drama, "Sun Up", and the ever popular "Rip Van Winkle".

Friday afternoon the Ramos Mexican orchestra will fire the opening gun of Redpath week. From sunny Mexico comes this notable company to bring its fascinating music to Redpath audiences, the colorful exotic costumes of the senoritas of the orchestra giving an atmosphere of picturesque charm. Above all the fire and rhythm and graciousness which have come down to the Ramos family from a long line of Castilian ancestors are uniquely pleasing. Their program will be one of the high spots of the entire Chautauqua. The program for the remainder of the five days of Chautauqua week is equally as good. Afternoon performances start at 3:30 o'clock and night performances at 8:00 o'clock.

That there is room for divergence of opinion as to whether the Redpath Chautauqua should enjoy some immunities from privilege taxes that other entertainment agencies do not, few will deny, nevertheless it is universally conceded that the entertainment offered by the Chautauqua is high class, instructive and often inspiring and that as a whole it appeals to the very best in human nature.

It augurs well for a community and for the coming generation that there are those whose minds are almost wholly centered on "business" for twelve months in a year when they will stop and use their purses to further enterprises that bear good fruit in character building and in emphasizing those virtues upon which the best in society is built.

Newspapers feel that it is one of the purposes of their every issue to carry much which does all the time what the Chautauqua undertakes to do for one week, and they therefore welcome every agency that seeks to give aid and support to what they seek and hope for fifty-two weeks in the year.

The Chautauqua program for this year is exceptionally good. It carries something that will appeal to almost every thinking person. If you want high class music, both vocal and instrumental, Chautauqua has it; if you are interested in science, there is something on the program that will satisfy you; if you are thinking in terms of economics and statecraft, there is one or more on the program to meet that demand and if it be matters of the Christian religion and the church that will likewise be had. So it is that Grenada citizens may anticipate a feast of soul and an enlargement of their knowledge of public matters that will be amply satisfying during Chautauqua week.

Local Business Club Will Elect Officers

Young Men's Organization to Ballot Next Thursday. Club, in Existence, Less than Year, Has Done Good Things for Town.

At its next meeting on the third Thursday in May, May 16, the Young Men's Business Club is to elect its officers for the ensuing year. A nominating committee, consisting of R. D. Sharp and E. M. Whitaker, will submit names to be balloted upon and the club will choose those who are to direct its work for another twelve months.

This organization of young business men has been functioning little less than a year. While it has accomplished nothing startling, it has done several worth while things for the community and it is believed that the club is destined to aid materially in the growth and development of Grenada. Notable among its activities since its first meeting is its aid in bringing the overall plant to Grenada. Its members are among the majority in the list of subscribers to the $25,000 of preferred stock taken by local citizens and when the matter of stock subscriptions was first brought up at one of the club meetings, a large per cent was pledged at once.

The club, too, paid the expenses of a delegation to a northern city to investigate another factory desiring to locate here.

The club has been instrumental in having the roof of the Grenada High School building marked for aviators, huge white letters, visible from a great height, giving the name of the town with an arrow pointing to the landing field on Glenwild Plantation.

An accurate census of Grenada was completed by the organization several months ago, showing Grenada's population to be approximately 5,000.

An analysis of the city's water, necessary information oftentimes in securing manufacturing plants, has been made at the instance of the club.

The efforts of one of the members of the club's advisory board has resulted in more tourists being routed through Grenada out of Memphis when they formerly were sent down through the delta.

While these things, as stated above, do not represent any startling achievement, it can be seen that the club has not been idle. The fact that the young business men of the town get together twice a month over the luncheon table, thereby getting to know each other better, means a great deal to the life of the community. The continued existence of the club will mean a greater and more wideawake Grenada and the young business men of the community who are not now affiliated with the organization should see that their names are enrolled at once.

Present officers who are rounding out their first year of service are Jay Gore, president, J. H Neely, vice-president, and Orman L. Kimbrough, secretary and treasurer.

BULLDOGS WIN AGAIN

The Grenada High School Bulldogs defeated the Kosciusko Whippets in a baseball game last Friday afternoon by a score of 9-2. With the exception of the last inning the Bulldogs played fine baseball, and had little trouble in holding the Whippets. Perkins, local pitcher, hurled a fine game allowing Kosciusko only one scratch single. His only difficulty came through several walked batsmen. McCool, the starting pitcher for the Whippets, was driven out during the second inning, and his successor was in trouble throughout the game.

The Bulldogs have been picked as one of the four teams to enter the semi-finals for the Championship of North Central Mississippi. In the drawing, Grenada drew the fast Winona Tigers as opponents in the playoff. The game was set to be played Thursday on the local grounds. The Winona team has an unbroken record of victories for the season, and the Bulldogs looked for the hardest game of the season.

LEAGUE SPONSORS PICTURES

Fully 250 people were present at the courthouse last Saturday evening, May 4, to witness the showing of four reels of fine hunting and fishing pictures, loaned the local chapter of the Izaak Walton League through the courtesy of the DuPont Powder Co., which is doing everything in its power to stimulate an interest in outdoor life. The pictures were shown by Henry Davis, a representative of the company.

Dan Wolf, president of the Memphis chapter of the Izaak Walton League and a member of the national educational committee, made a splendid talk which was enjoyed by all present.

The local Walton chapter is anxious for everyone interested in game conservation and forest preservation to enlist and help in the promotion of this work in Grenada county.

WANTS DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION IN THE CABINET.

Congressman John M. Robsion of Kentucky has introduced a bill in the lower house of Congress to create a department of education.

The bill seeks to provide a secretary of education at a salary of $15,000. (more than that paid any other cabinet officer); an assistant secretary of education, a solicitor, a chief clerk and a disbursing clerk "and such other scientific, technical and clerical assistants as may be necessary";—two thousand persons or ten thousand if the judgment of the department thinks so. Besides this the bill carries a provision for "a National Council on education" to be composed of the state superintendents of education "or other chief educational authorities" of the different states. How many this would number, the Lord of heaven only knows.

The proposed department is to have to do with the following as stated in the bill: "(1) Rural education; (2) elementary education; (3) secondary education; (4) higher education; (5) professional education; (6) physical education, including health education and recreations; (7) special education for the mentally and physically handicapped; (8) training of teachers; (9) immigrant education; (10) adult education; (11) "and such other fields of education" as the mind of the secretary may seek to invade or conquer.

The bill should be labeled, "A bill to create a political dynasty and to shackle the childhood of America, and to make the greatest political machine the world ever knew—even one greater than it could ever have dreamed of".

It is one of the most undermining, subtle, blood sucking, nation-destroying pieces of legislation that was ever conceived by a man supposed to be concerned about the welfare and life of the Nation.

Its daddy, or foster daddy, is the Ku Klux, as we read the handwriting on the wall.

Let it be hoped that but few will be hoodwinked by the alleged purposes of the bill. It is a measure that will desecrate and destroy the basic principles of this government. It comes bearing what it terms a message of good will for childhood in one hand while it carries a deadly, concealed dagger in the other.

Back in the shadows of the proposed law is a proposition to have the United States government print school books—this would be paternalism with hydrophobia.

With this bill enacted into law would come bureaus and a bureaucracy which would be worse that the ten plagues of Egypt and which would require more territory for the Nation's capital.

A better statement of the terrors and disasters that await the business end of such a stupendous folly as this bill proposes could not be better epitomized than was done by President Hoover in New York City in an address delivered October 22, 1928 in the following words:

> "Every expansion of the government in business means that government in order to protect itself from the political consequences of its errors and wrongs is driven irresistibly without peace to greater and greater control of the nation's press. Every step of bureaucratizing of the business of our country poisons the very roots of liberalism—that is, political equality, free speech, free assembly, free press and equality of opportunity."

POLITICAL QUACKS LONG ABROAD IN THE LAND

Political quacks have long been abroad. Every day and generation has had them. Mississippi is infested with some of these today. They are long on "prescribing" but they rarely agree, and each one insists that his is the main, the only, remedy. They often juggle a patient into believing that they have diagnosed his disease correctly. As a matter of fact these quack remedy-givers are never happier than when they create a "storm" in the minds of the citizenry to such an extent that they cry aloud in their sleep and sing the quack-tutored songs in their waking hours. Just now, there are those in Mississippi who seem to believe if there is not some sort of a highway law enacted, Mississippi will be tabooed or blacklisted by outsiders.

Mississippi needs to begin permanent road building; graveled roads are a costly luxury. But we are far from reaching the point that "it is hard surfaced road building or die", important as hard surfaced road building is.

When hard surfaced road building is started, it means an immense outlay of money which must be paid by somebody. It is therefore more than important that the provisions of any bill looking to this end be most cautiously and carefully considered. Loud and well authenticated complaints can be heard echoing from other states about the graft and useless pie counter men as a result of road building. Let us profit by what other states have experienced. Let not our zeal for hard surfaced roads prompt us to throw our own common sense into the discard.

MOTHER'S DAY, MAY 12.

The day which has been especially set apart for the honoring and praising the life of the mothers living and the mothers gone on before falls this year on May 12. Let it be hoped that we shall not only make a profession of our love and duty to our mothers on this day, but that we shall resolve in our heart of hearts to cherish, love and honor them more all the time.

We sometimes question whether the many public services that we have in the present age to emphasize and to encourage worthy aims and purposes do not serve as a sort of opiate which prompts us, maybe, to think that we have met every sublime or noble demand when we join in the public service. Therefore may it be hoped that we shall not allow the public exercises of this day to cause us to believe that we have met every proper demand in honoring mother, father, home and the beautifully sacred things that linger in every right sort of heart about the Eden of every life.

One whose heart is not moved by thinking over the memories of childhood and thoughts that linger around the old family fireside may be rich in what men call riches, yet he is more than a beggar where plenty abounds.

How much of the sunrise of promise and the hope of noonday grow out of that sweet and holy prayer you learned at Mamma's knee and whose voice now echoes from your heart in the words,

"Now I lay me down to sleep
I pray the Lord my soul to keep
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take."

Life is a practical problem. Try as hard as we may to get away from its humdrum and, shall we say, its strife, we still find ourselves in a veritable whirlpool that is carrying us thitherward we know not where. There is a conflict every day. Life is a battle. With the one who is trying his best to steer his bark straight to the other shore, the conflict, the battle, is most frequently with one's self.

Conflicts are but in keeping with all life. There is a conflict between the elements which we see in the lightning and hear in the thunder and realize in the storm. But for the warfare among the very microbes that invest our bodies, we would be hurried to a quick destruction.

Thus it is we see that we need to early understand that if we do anything much really worth while in life, we must not be looking for just easy places—with nothing to do, nothing to think about, with no loved ones to care for, no friends to serve and with no one who has a right to demand our best thoughts and attentions.

So in this conflict which comes in some degree to all, it is sweet and inspiring to be able to turn our minds back to Mother, Father and the old home. The man or the woman, the boy or the girl, whose thoughts most frequently revert to the associations with father and mother, will not go far astray. He or she will always be within hearing of that voice which pleads "Come home, my child, come home".

To love and honor your mother is but obeying one of the Great Commandments. There is a tenderness and a pathos and an appeal in the love of mother that makes one know that what mother feels for her child comes from the very recesses of Paradise. Her love is born of heaven; it will realize its reward when her children are anchored in heaven.

The observance of this day should serve to make us more thoughtful, more polite, more chivalrous, less selfish and more of a true gentleman every day. May its observance make us less wrapped up in self and, when this is true, we are thinking more of others—mother love always has others within its fold.

How a mother's love follows her children is beautifully stated in the following little poem by Ethel Fanning Young, taken from the Living Church of April 29:

Saviour, Watch Over My Son.

As Thou didst walk the lanes of Galilee
So, loving Saviour, walk with him for me.

For, since the years have passed and he is grown,
I cannot follow; he must walk alone.

Be Thou my feet that I have had to stay,
For Thou canst comrade him on every way;

Be Thou my voice when sinful things allure,
Pleading with him to choose those that endure;

Be Thou my hand that would keep his in mine,
And all things else that mothers must resign.

When he was little I could walk and guide
But now I pray that Thou be at his side.

And as Thy blessed mother folded Thee
So, loving Saviour, fold my son for me.

TAKE NOTE OF DEBT INCREASES.

Hon. Edgar S. Wilson, who is an authority on official data and political affairs in Mississippi, published a few days ago the figures showing increase in appropriations by the state since 1900-01 and the bonded indebtedness now and in 1900-01.

The appropriations by the legislature for the period named were, according to Mr. Wilson, $3,916,795.69 and for 1928-29, $27,292,513.82, an increase of nearly 600 per cent.

The bonded indebtedness of the state, 1900-01, was, $600,000, whereas it is now $28,041,000.44, an increase of over 4500 per cent.

It is safe to assert that the expenses of the different towns and counties for the same period have increased more than 500 per cent and that the bonded indebtedness of the different counties and towns is more than a 5000 per cent increase.

It is likewise estimated that the indebtedness of the individual citizen at present as compared with the years 1900-01, shows an increase of more than 600 per cent.

Would it not be well for us to pinch ourselves and propound the question, "Really, how much has our personal estate increased in value during the period named, and has the wealth of the state increased sufficiently to warrant what the towns, the counties and state owe today?". Let us reason together and give an honest answer.

When we buy, buy, buy, it means that we must pay, pay, pay.

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE SETTLES IT.

We observe that Hon. J. C. Holton, state commissioner of agriculture, is out in a public statement endorsing and praising the running of the "Know Mississippi Better Train". "That settles it". Naturally the commissioner wants to make the trip and pay the expenses thereof with the money of the taxpayers of Mississippi.

We have wondered sometimes how it is that people seek to tell others about important things of which they know little themselves. The efficient school teacher knows her subject well before she undertakes to instruct her class. This is equally important to others, however much they may have failed to realize it.

Authorities predict for the Future what DODGE BROTHERS OFFER TODAY

"The all-metal seamless body is the auto body of the future," George J. Mercer, consulting body engineer and chairman of the body division of the Society of Automotive Engineers, predicted at a meeting of the Cleveland Section of the S. A. E.—Automotive Daily News, February 12, 1929.

In the exclusive Mono-piece Body of the new Dodge Brothers Six, you find the identical type of design and construction to which leading automotive engineers point as "the body of the future."

Literally one-piece, the Mono-piece Body is positive proof against squeaks and rattles.

Even after thousands of miles of hardest usage it remains as tight, as firm and as noiseless as when new.

Providing an abundance of room with a new degree of grace, the Mono-piece Body is stylishly trim. Doors and windows are wide.

In fact, the Mono-piece Body, in every way, stamps the new Dodge Brothers Six as the herald of a new era of greater beauty, greater comfort and even greater dependability in motor car design and construction.

NASH SETS RECORD IN APRIL

Kenosha, Wis., May 1.—April shipments of the Nash "400" series cars exceeded those of the corresponding month last year by 92.68 per cent, thereby establishing the highest April record in the history of the company, it was announced today by C. H. Bliss, General Sales Manager.

Shipments were almost double those of the same month in 1928.

At the same time, it was also announced that total shipments from the Nash factories for the first four months of this year were 59.38 percent greater than the shipments for the first four months of 1928.

The fact that sales records have been mounting, month after month, is attributed as a direct reflection of the widespread public appreciation of the "400" series.

You can't compromise with Pride of Ownership

The owner of a De Soto Six has a sound basis for his pride of ownership—he is driving exactly the car that he wants to drive—a product of Chrysler Motors.

Cars of lower price attracted him not at all. He knows they lack many of his essential demands. And he didn't need to buy a more expensive car because he found complete satisfaction—full realization of his personal standards of performance, comfort, economy and durability—in the De Soto Six.

Here is a car that is literally built to order for those whose budgets are not unlimited—a car that even the most discriminating motorist can own without either sacrificing his pride or straining his pocketbook.

Before deciding on your purchase, give the Chrysler-built De Soto Six your most critical inspection. You will find all the advantages and comforts, all the zestful driving, and all the pride of ownership that are associated in your mind only with cars of much higher price.

Council Meets.

The Teachers' Council of the Methodist Sunday School held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in the basement of the church with a splendid attendance of officers and teachers.

The program was given in honor of the members of the home department and special talks on this work were made by Mrs. R. A. Clanton and Misses Sallie Parnell and Lizzie Horn. Mrs. R. W. Sharp was made superintendent of this special branch of the Sunday School.

The regular reports from the various departmental superintendents were made after which the interesting announcement was made that Sunday School will be held next Sunday in the new building just completed and furnished throughout.

The Sunday School pupils will congregate in the church first, where a short worship period will be held after which they will go to the new building and be assigned to their class rooms for a short lesson period. Every member of the Sunday School is urged and requested to be present at this opening service.

A most tempting two-course supper was served at the close of the meeting. The following members of the home department were guests at the meeting: Mesdames J. M. Archer, John Hill, H. C. Wilson, Minnie Henderson, J. H. Biddy and Joe Stevens.

Bridge Luncheon for Mrs. Neely.

Mrs. Frank Gerard was the gracious hostess Tuesday at a most enjoyable luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Joe Neely who has just recently returned home from several months' stay in Texas.

A most delicious three-course luncheon was enjoyed by the following guests, who were privileged to be present at this delightful affair: Mesdames Joe Neely, John Bradley, Robert Hall, Frank Mohead, O. F. Lawrence, Arthur Kettle, Bryan Baker and Eugene Proudfit and Miss Juliette Doak.

Bridge was indulged in after the luncheon, during the afternoon, and Mrs. Neely was given a most cordial welcome back home. Lovely roses were used throughout the rooms thrown open to the guests and a variety of spring blossoms were used as a centerpiece for the beautifully appointed luncheon table.

Mrs. Graham Entertains.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ben Graham was the charming hostess at a three-table bridge party at her lovely home on Snider Street. Roses and a profusion of spring blossoms decorated the attractive living room where the tables were placed for the four series of games which were played.

A most tempting plate lunch with iced tea was served by Mrs. Graham after the games.

High score was made by Mrs. E. R. Proudfit who received a lovely pink and blue luster rose jar as prize.

The following matrons enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Graham on this enjoyable occasion: Mesdames John Pressgrove, Hubert Tatum, J. K. Avent, Harry Pope, Knox Pierce, Robert Sharp, F. A. Stacy, A. J. McCaslin, Joe Rumble, Overton Pearson, Henry Pope and Eugene Proudfit.

The lovely gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a large pink basket, tied with a white tulle bow, and after the guests had helped to open and admire them, each one wrote the answer to "The One Thing Your Husband Must Be", and these were given to the honoree for future reference.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for May 12

THE EARLY MINISTRY OF JEREMIAH

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 1:6-10; 26:1-24.

GOLDEN TEXT—We must obey God rather than man.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Doing Hard Things for God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Doing Hard Things for God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Taking a Stand for God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Fidelity in the Face of Difficulties.

I. Jeremiah's Call (1:1-10).

1. It was prenatal (vv. 4, 1).

Before Jeremiah was born God ordained him a prophet unto the nations.

2. His diffidence (v. 6).

This seems to have grown out of his youth and inexperience.

3. His hesitancy overcome (vv. 7, 8).

God graciously appeared unto him and made clear that he should (1) Go where sent. (2) Speak as commanded. (3) Be unafraid of their faces. The servant of God is called upon to face strong enemies. (4) Be assured of the divine presence.

4. The divine message given (v. 9).

Not merely the thoughts, but the proper words to express the thoughts, were put into the prophet's mouth.

5. Nature of his ministry (v. 19).

It was to be wider than that of prophesying. Six words are given as describing thereof. The first four are destructive in their implication—"root out," "pull down," "destroy," and "throw down"; two constructive, "build" and "plant." The destructive precedes the constructive.

II. Jeremiah's Grief (9:1, cf. 6:10).

The unbelief of the people made him feel that his efforts were fruitless. Seeing so clearly the awful doom which awaited his people and nation, and their willful opposition, he wept sorely.

III. Jeremiah's Prophecy in the Temple Court (26:1-24).

1. Jeremiah's solemn warning to Judah (vv. 1-7).

The Lord commanded him to stand in a conspicuous place in the temple and proclaim the judgment which was about to fall upon them because of their sins. The object was to move them to repentance (v. 3). If they would not repent, God would make the temple as Shiloh (v. 6). Just as Shiloh was once the dwelling place of the Lord and now fallen into decay and abandoned, so would it be with the temple.

2. Jeremiah on trial (vv. 8-11).

(1) Cause of arrest (v. 8). It was for faithfully speaking all that the Lord had commanded.

(2) The charge (vv. 8, 9). Thou shalt surely die. They charged him with a capital crime. According to this charge his guilt was twofold: a, Pretending to speak for God. b. Speaking against the temple and the city. According to this charge he was guilty of blasphemy and sacrilege. The one who prophesied without God's command was to be punished by death (Deut. 18:20). Blasphemy was also punishable by death (Lev. 24:16).

(3) The princes sit in judgment (vv. 10, 11). Matters of state were not entirely in the hands of the priests and elders, but were in part controlled by members of the royal family.

3. Jeremiah's defense (vv. 12-15).

Threats of death did not deter him from preaching, but only made him repeat his message with clearness and tenderness.

(1) Reiterates his divine commission (v. 12). He plainly told them that he was God's messenger, and in opposing him they were opposing God.

(2) His exhortation (v. 13). He urged them to amend their ways and obey God and thus turn aside the divine judgment.

(3) He gave himself up (v. 14). He did not resist the powers of government (Rom. 13:1).

(4) Warns of fatal consequences (v. 15). He told them that God had sent him and that if they killed him they would be guilty of defying God.

4. Jeremiah saved (vv. 16-24).

(1). The judgment of the princes (v. 16). They pronounced him "not guilty." They were convinced that Jeremiah was speaking the truth.

(2) The speech of the elders (vv. 17-23).

The elders pled for Jeremiah and adduced two cases in illustration: a. Micah (vv. 18, 19). Micah had prophesied against Jerusalem, but King Hezekiah instead of putting him to death, repented, and thus turned aside the punishment which was impending.

b. Urijah (vv. 20-23). Urijah prophesied against the city and the land and thus incurred the wrath of Jehoiakim, who even brought him back from Egypt and slew him.

(3) Rescued by Ahikam (v. 24). Ahikam must have been a man of influence, to be able to interfere at such a time.

25 YEARS AGO IN GRENADA

From the Files of THE GRENADA SENTINEL

That excellent and kind-hearted lady, Mrs. M. H. Rollins, of Memphis, is visiting her daughters, Mrs. A. T. Inman and Miss Estelle Rollins.

The entertainment given at the opera house on Thursday evening for the benefit of the Presbyterian church was attended by a large and appreciative audience, all of whom thoroughly enjoyed the excellent program. The several participants acquitted themselves in a praiseworthy manner, winning the hearty applause of the well pleased audience. The proceeds are for the building fund of the proposed new church.

Mr. Chas. Trimble, of South McAlester, I. T., is visiting relatives in Grenada.

Miss Mary Ward, daughter of Dr. B. F. Ward, of Winona, is a guest of Mrs. Lizzie Jones.

Mrs. P. A. Dulin, of Aberdeen, was in the city on Monday. Mrs. S. G. Dulin accompanied her home.

Mrs. H. L. McNamara and children have returned to their home in Grenada after a visit to Mrs. McNamara's sister in Tennessee.

The Rev. Mr. Holmes visited Charleston, N. C., this week.

Mrs. Hettie Harris, formerly with Barrow & Price, Greenwood, is now with the Grenada Dry Goods Co. Mrs. Harris is a most excellent lady, and as a clerk has had considerable experience.

Miss Berta McLean went to Memphis yesterday, taking Frank, son of the Hon. W. C. McLean, for the purpose of consulting a surgeon.

Children's Day will be observed at the Methodist church tomorrow forenoon at 11 o'clock. An excellent program, consisting of songs and recitations by the children, has been prepared for the occasion. There will also be short addresses by the Rev. Ben Jaco and J. C. Wilson. The church will be handsomely decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

The bright and lovely Miss Maggie Bailey, of Harrison, is visiting Mrs. J. P. Broadstreet.

Mr. W. M. Beard, a substantial farmer of Grenada county, was an appreciated caller at The Sentinel office on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. T. Allen, of Jackson, Miss., accompanied by her daughter, Vivian, and Leslie Allen, son of W. H. Allen of this city, arrived in Grenada on Monday to spend the summer.

Miss Luda Moore represented the Grenada public schools at a meeting of the state teachers' association, held at Jackson this week.

Mr. G. W. Williams, editor of the Winona Times, insinuated his august presence among his Grenada acquaintances on Saturday, and cast the effulgence of his 18-karat smile upon The Sentinel.

Mr. H. A. Lee, the genial and popular editor and proprietor of the Water Valley Itemizer, was mingling with his friends in Grenada Saturday last.

Mrs. J. M. Wyatt spent a portion of the week in Greenwood as representative of the local chapter of Daughters of the Confederacy at the state convention.

DODGE SHIPMENTS SHOW BIG INCREASES DURING MARCH

The heavy new car buying season, reaching its peak in April, is reflected by the March shipments of passenger cars and trucks of Dodge Brothers, which show an increase over February of 7,755 units or more than 48 per cent. The figures include shipments from all plants in the United States and Canada, and represent substantial gains for the Senior Six, the New Dodge Brothers Six and Dodge Brothers truck and commercial car lines over February.

Gains in shipments registered by the Senior Six line for March over the previous month totaled 141 per cent, the New Six made a gain of 40 per cent while the Dodge trucks and commercial cars reported a gain of 78 per cent.

"Reports reaching us from dealers over the country indicate a record breaking spring buying season", said Charles W. Matheson, general sales manager. "The introduction of the New Dodge Brothers Six models, at prices within the reach of millions of families, has met with unusual public reception, and April shipments are going forward to domestic and foreign markets on a scale that indicates a continual prosperous buying era.

"The low priced automobile of today must possess style, speed, comfort, dependability and economy, if it is to be built and sold on a quantity scale, and must be produced by a company whose reputation is established by years of success in the automotive field. At a time when the automobile dollar never represented a greater value, there is every indication that the retail business for 1929 will set a new record for the industry.

Extra Hotpoint Values

This great Hotpoint automatic electric range is an unusual value! It is equipped with the unbeatable Hotpoint "SPEED" cooking units. The oven is oversize; measure it and see. Yet it heats up faster than flame-heated ovens. The automatic temperature control is more than just that. It not only maintains the desired cooking temperature, but a precision thermometer included in the control shows you that the exact temperature is maintained. There is no guesswork about it. As a result, foods taste better and are better; and more healthful too. The oven is full porcelain enamel lined, easiest to keep clean.

Badly Run-Down

"Six years ago, I was very much run-down," says Mrs. Olympia Kight, of Lovett, Ga. "I did not sleep well, and was weak and restless. I dragged around the house with not enough strength to do my daily tasks. I worried a lot, and this disturbed state of mind reacted on my health.

"I had often read of Cardui, so I thought I would try it. I soon began to improve after I had taken Cardui for a while.

"It was astonishing how much I picked up. I slept better; my appetite improved, and that awful dragging-down feeling left me. I was so much better that I continued taking Cardui until I felt perfectly well."

Cardui has been used by women for over 50 years. For sale by all druggists.

Rice Lawrence Weds Miss Delila Broome.

A wedding that proved a surprise to their many friends was solemnized on Wednesday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. E. Cunningham, pastor of the First Methodist Church, when Miss Delila Wilma Broome was happily married to Mr. Rice Inman Lawrence, only a few intimate friends being present.

The bride is the accomplished and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Broome and is employed in the district office of the Mississippi Power and Light Co. The groom is stores auditor for the Mississippi Power and Light Co., and during his stay here has made many friends because of his affable nature and high ideals.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence have gone to Grenada for a short visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lawrence.—Greenville Democrat Times, May 4.

Mr. Lawrence is the youngest son of Grenada's postmaster. He and his lovely bride motored to Grenada last Saturday afternoon and remained over until Monday. Mrs. Lawrence is not only very attractive of person but she impresses all as a very practical, common sense character and as one who makes first those beautiful and sublime characteristics which have always been revered in the womanhood of the South.

Brewer-Smith.

Mr. J. E. Brewer and Miss Laura Mae Smith were united in marriage last Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Tchula, Miss., the ceremony being said by Rev. A. T. Clanton, pastor of the Methodist church at that place, and taking place in the minister's home.

The bride is a most attractive young woman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith, who reside near West. She has been a student in the agricultural high school at Goodman and was unusually proficient in her studies.

The groom, too, had been attending the same school and it was there he met his bride to be and it was there that their romance budded and ripened. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Brewer, substantial citizens of Grenada, and since coming to this community several years ago he has made for himself many friends by his happy temperament and his never failing good humor. He is associated with his father in business in Grenada.

The Sentinel joins in congratulations to the young couple.

Miss Barrow in Senior Recital.

One of the most delightful senior recitals in expression given at Grenada College in a long time was that given by Miss Evelyn Barrow Tuesday evening before a large and an appreciative audience. On this occasion Miss Barrow read with remarkable artistic ability the folk-play, "Sun Up", by Lula Vollmer; her interpretation of the characters in this play was exceedingly well done, each character being brought out as distinctively as if it had appeared on the stage.

Both Miss Barrow and her teacher, Miss Ruth G. Bale, are to be congratulated upon this splendid work. Miss Barrow has made for herself quite a reputation with her histrionic ability on previous occasions when she took prominent parts in the plays put on by the Players' Guild under Miss Bale's direction.

Student Officers Elected

Grenada College has recently held the election of officers for several of its organizations. For the Sunday School Miss Marie Moore was chosen as superintendent, Miss Lillian Saunders as assistant, Miss Locke Ferrel as secretary, Miss Myrtis Clair Edwards as treasurer and Miss Agnes Martin as chairman of the missionary department.

Miss Frances Gammon has been chosen as editor of the annual for next year; she will have as her business manager Miss Fay Gunn. For the school paper, The Grenadian, Miss Agnes Martin was elected as editor and Miss Mildred Townsend as business manager.

Naturally it pleases the congregation of All Saints Episcopal church in Grenada that their new rector, Rev. J. H. Boosey, is so well liked, and that he is getting to know the town's citizenship unusually well not to have been here any longer than he has. Mr. Boosey is a Canadian by birth. He is a practical and highly cultured man and understands well how to deal with everyday problems. Mrs. Boosey was reared at Natchez, being a member of the widely known Martin family of that historic town. She is a most important factor in her husband's work and is a woman that will grow on her friends and one who will assist her good husband in making friends.

The Sentinel is pleased to note the confidence and the esteem in which William and Charles Penn, sons of Mrs. Nannie Penn of Grenada, are held by the business world in the Greenville section of the delta where they have been engaged since leaving home. William, the older one, is in charge of the wholesale grocery establishment of J. T. Fargason at Greenville and Charles, the second son, is the "credit man". Both positions are important ones and it is indeed a compliment to young men of their age to be entrusted with such responsibilities. The Sentinel feels sure that they will measure up to the important trust committed to them.

After Rev. R. S. Bostic announced that a working crew would tackle the cemetery on Tuesday of this week to give it a general scrubbing, several men with axes, hoes and other implements of warfare met and did creditable work in each of the cemeteries where our dead are resting. The ladies of Belle Flower Baptist Church prepared a nice dinner for the men who worked. This is the beginning of a series of onslaughts necessary to make our cemetery a place we will not be ashamed of. The notices in the future will be more general and will give us all a chance to show that we revere the resting place of our departed.

Rev. C. G. Scrivens, pastor of Mt. Hermon A. M. E. church, presented the cause of the Old Folks Home Association last Sunday and received a contribution of $2.25. It was memorial day and the people were not expecting a call for money is the reason the contribution was as small as it was. They plan a special day on the fourth Sunday in May when they will make another effort. Vincent M. E. Church sent in $2.00. These are the only two churches, it seems, that made any effort. The ministers have been asked to give the people a chance to give to this cause. We are hoping that the meeting the first Sunday in June will have better results.

Dr. W. G. O'Niel, of Pine Bluff, Ark., made his advent to our city last Saturday. His coming had been announced before his arrival here. Dr. O'Niel is a practicing physician, and has had a very extensive practice in Arkansas, where he has resided for several years. Grenada county is his native heath and for several years after finishing his medical course he had desired to return to his home state. He and Dr. W. H. Strickland were classmates, and after a few years of separation it may be possible for them to combine here in a way to enlarge their usefulness as health promoters in this community.

Both of these gentlemen are hightoned and fully equipped as physicians. We think there is room for both of them, and as a matter of race pride they should receive the consideration and support of our group. As a race, there should be no quibbling about giving recognition to those of our group who prepare and qualify for service, professionally or otherwise. If we fail to see this truth we need not waste any more money on our children's education.

GRENADA ACCLAIMS TALKING PICTURES

player one microphone is sufficient, but in the performances of large orchestras like the New York Philharmonic, six or more microphones may be used.

"These microphones transmit more than the sound waves as they are set in motion by the instruments, since they are sufficiently far removed from the instruments to permit the sound to gather to itself the resonant atmosphere of the studio, which furnishes to the listener a sense of location to the music. In other words, the sounds are affected by the room's reverberating properties in such a way that a listener hearing the sounds reproduced gains the sense impression that he is listening to an orchestra playing right before him either in the same room or in a room adjoining. By adjusting the liveness or deadness of the studio by such means as curtains or rugs the correct amount of room echo is caught by the microphones.

"From the microphones the fluctuating electrical current passes through wires to the control room where it passes through an amplifying system. Amplifier panels of the Western Electric Public Address System type are used in this connection. Because the current set up by the fluctuations of sound pressure at the diaphragm of the microphone are too minute to operate the registering device which cuts the groves on the soft wax disk which serves as a master record, this amplifier system is introduced to take the small current at its input end and by means of distortionless vacuum-tubes amplify it to the requisite strength. There is also a monitoring system here used in connection with regulating the total volume of sound, a volume indicator, and two panels for testing purposes which have nothing directly to do with the registering equipment. On the monitoring and indicator panels are five vacuum-tubes and possible connections for four separate monitoring sets.

"From the amplifier system the current passes to the recorder. Here the fluctuating electrical current is translated into mechanical vibrations. These mechanical vibrations—faithful facsimiles of the sound vibrations which reacted on the diaphragm of the microphone—are recorded on a disk of soft wax by means of a stylus made of sapphire and shaped oval-fashion like the end of a spoon. By means of mechanical filters all extraneous vibrations are eliminated."

things that are being demanded now by the best farmers. Of course I make no claim to being able to do all a graduate ought to do who comes out of an A. & M. College. And my reason for speaking of myself as I do, is because I have been employed and because the Farm Development Association would like for me to get intimately in touch with every farmer in Grenada County. So friend farmer, call for me. Demand my services. Tell me you want me to visit your farm.

The Farm Development Association meets regularly on the morning of the first Tuesday in each month in the directors' room of the Grenada Bank. I am authorized to say that the association would be glad to have as many farmers as possible meet with it every month, and to take part in what is being done. My judgment is if more of our farmers were to attend these meetings, they would appreciate better the purposes of the association and would be more and more resolved to work cooperatively with the organization.

Yours very truly,
